NARBERTH, PA., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1921

PRICE THREE CENTS

Narberth Thankful For Many Good Things

AMONG WHICH MIGHT BE MENTIONED THE FOLLOWING ITEMS.

The Weather Man has been easy on the coal bin.

A permanent Out door Recreation Center is now in sight.

Our "Main Street" is more cleanly than it used to be.

Narberth dahlias were bigger and finer than ever this autumn.

That we can now catch trains with out aid of an adding and subtracting machine.

That, as always, we have an active and efficient Fire Company.

The big Borough improvement that the Tennis Association has made at its new grounds.

The fact that we have one of the largest and most successful women's clubs in Pennsylvania.

A choral society that is spreading the fame of Narberth far and wide.

A postmaster who is both an efficient public official and a good fellow. Marion Star, please copy.

That Howard Davis and his son Gene never mind getting up early in the morning, no matter how cold, stormy or otherwise disagreeable the weather may be.

That our two B. and L. associations—the Narberth and the American Legion—are helping us to "get the money, to get the time, to get the things that money won't buy."

And finally, that all of Narberth's many organizations are on their toes to make this winter the liveliest, most interesting and most congenial in the history of our Borough.

Community Club Notes

"Kiping, the Uncrowned Laureate," will be the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Women's Community Club on Tuesday next at 2.30 P. M., in the community room of the Y. M. C. A. This versatile genius has passed through many phases of praise and censure from the critics, but always has been eagerly read and appreciated by the entire reading public, both those who care for the mastery of style and those who read solely for entertainment. The Kipling program will include reading from both his prose and his verse by Mrs. F. T. Van Auker and Mrs. E. A. Muschamp. The Literature Department, with Mrs. R. E. Wood chairman, is in charge of the program.

DR. TAGGART TO SPEAK

The Legislature Chairman, Mrs. W. W. Pierson, has secured as speaker for the meeting on Tuesday Dr. W. T. Taggart, Professor of Chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania, and also director of the chemistry laboratories of the University. Dr. Taggart's subject will be, "Chemistry and Necessary Legislation to Protect the Chemistry Industry in This Country." The music of the afternoon will be appropriate to the Kipling program.

CARD PARTY WEDNESDAY AFTER-NOON

Next Wednesday afternoon, November 30th, at 2 o'clock, is the time of the card party to be given by Mrs. Robert Dohard for the benefit of the building fund of the Community Club. This is to be at Mrs. Dohard's residence, on Wynnewood avenue. Of

AMERICAN LEGION ASSOCIATION OFFERS NEW OPPORTUNITY TO INVEST.

Our busy, low townsmen and townswomen who are continually confronted with the problem of how to invest the surplus earnings so as to be prepared for a rainy day, or for sending John and Betty to college, will welcome the good words of Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Interior, about building and loan associations. In a letter to the Secretary of the United States Building and Loan Association, Secretary Hoover said:

"Your associations, true people's banks, popularly controlled and locally managed, have sprung up voluntarily throughout the country. Through the system of weekly or monthly deposits by their shareholders they encourage thrift throughout the country. Through the system of amortization, in which the building and loan associations were the pioneers, they have made their assets sound and worthy of confidence. Through loans principally upon homes

Methodist Bazaar Next Saturday

THOUSANDS OF ARTICLES IN ONE-DAY BAZAAR IN Y. M. C. A. BUILDING, DEC. 3RD.

One hundred dolls. Scores wonderfully dressed and ready for little arms. It is worth a visit just to see the doll hats—many beautiful creations, sold separately. Every little girl in Narberth should see this doll table.

Display of handwork and fancy articles. Husband and lover, look here for milady's gift.

"No fruit this year," you say. Why, friend, the table of canned fruits and preserves grows. Fill your shelves from it.

Christmas cards. Buy here and now. Home-bake. The largest assortment we have ever offered. Narberth's very best.

Aprons enough to cover Narberth's new $30,000 bond issue. All the way from the most dignified to the most domestic.

Candy! candy! candy! Fish-pond, with hundreds of fish! A catch every time.

Men, read this! A table for you. Ties and "hold-ups." Hundreds of toilet articles for men only. Where? At the "Old Rose" Booth.

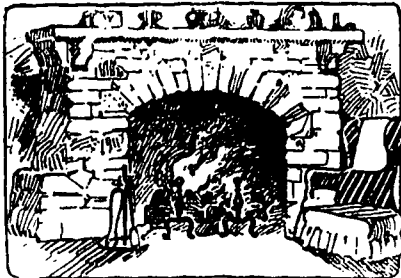

The miscellaneous table will contain hundreds of articles to be found nowhere else in the whole Bazaar.

A thousand dollars' worth of useful and beautiful merchandise. Owing to the short time given in which to sell this large stock of goods, there must be wonderful bargains offered.

Date: Saturday morning, afternoon and evening, December 3rd.

Bazaar opens at 10 A. M. Come as early as possible and make your selections. Lunch counter for your accommodation.

Auspices: Ladies' Aid Society of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church.

Everything Ready For Big Card Party

LADIES' AUXILIARY OF TENNIS ASSOCIATION PLANNING ENJOYABLE PROGRAM FOR NEXT SATURDAY EVENING.

Plans are completed for the big Card Party to be given in Elm Hall next Saturday evening, December 3, by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Narberth Tennis Association, and there is every indication that the affair will be a big success.

Tickets have been supplied to the members, and extra tickets may be had from Mrs. Carl R. Metzger, chairman of the committee in charge of the party, or from Mrs. Harry Hartley, who is President of the Auxiliary.

Incidentally, the Auxiliary reports that there is a considerable demand already for tickets, and would therefore suggest that members of both the Auxiliary and the Tennis Association who are planning to take friends to the affair next Saturday evening make up their parties as soon as possible, and arrange with either Mrs. Metzger or Mrs. Hartley to get the extra tickets needed.

There will be tables of both bridge and five hundred, and the Auxiliary has secured a number of fine and beautiful prizes, which will be awarded to the various winners.

The Auxiliary is anxious to make this card party a big success, and urges all members to make up groups among their friends, and thus make the number of participants as large as possible.

The proceeds will go into the fund which the Auxiliary is raising to help defray the cost of developing the new grounds and club building of the Tennis Association, and the members of the Auxiliary are anxious to make as much as possible.

So everyone who likes bridge or five hundred may be assured of an enjoyable evening next Saturday night.

The members of the Auxiliary are planning to serve refreshments and do everything that will make players comfortable and insure a pleasant evening for everyone.

Members of the Tennis Association and the Ladies' Auxiliary, and their friends, are asked to remember:

The big card party of bridge and five hundred to be held next Saturday evening, December 3, in Elm Hall, and Make no other engagements for that evening, and engage tickets immediately.

Christmas Seal Sale In Narberth

You probably have already received a letter containing your supply of Christmas Seals and a request for a donation of a dollar or more to help carry on the fight against tuberculosis.

By purchasing your seals in Narberth you not only help to support the National Association, and the State and county organizations, but at the same time a good proportion of the sum realized is spent right in our own district.

Help make a good showing for Narberth and Montgomery County. Narberth has always given generously; let us see that every piece of mail that goes out of our local post-office during the month of December bears a Christmas Seal.

Soloist Selected For Choral Concert

DOROTHY JOHNSTONE BASELER, NOTED HARPISST, TO APPEAR WITH LOCAL ORGANIZATION ON DEC. 16TH.

The Choral Society has been successful in the securing of Mrs. Dorothy Johnstone Baseler one of the most celebrated harpists of the country, as soloist for the local concert to be given on the evening of Friday, December 16th, in the School Auditorium.

Mrs. Baseler will play several solo selections on her superb instrument, and, with cello and violin, give in addition two or three stringed trio numbers.

The Chorus has a most appealing group of lovely ballads, sprightly and vivacious songs, and three appropriate Christmas carols, which will be accompanied by the harp.

Mrs. Baseler is of Scotch-Irish descent. After mastering the piano, she realized the wonderful possibilities of the harp, one of the most difficult of all instruments, and pursued her studies under the best masters of the harp in America and abroad. She has appeared with the Philadelphia Orchestra and many other renowned organizations of the country. Among the prominent people for whom Mrs. Baseler has frequently played are President and Mrs. Taft, Ambassador and Mrs. Charles G. Tower, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stodbury, J. Drexel Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, and many others. It has been said that no one person in America has done more to elevate the standard of the harp as a solo instrument than Mrs. Baseler.

The "Musical American," perhaps the best known musical paper of the United States, has aptly described this artist when they recently stated: "Dorothy Johnstone Baseler is a veritable wizard of the harp, and under her touch it responds to an extraordinary range of expressive demand."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ENTERTAINMENT.

On Tuesday evening the Senior Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church was entertained by the girls of Team B, consisting of Dorothy Bottoms, captain, Mabel Kirkpatrick and Lois Smith, lieutenants, and Mabel Haney, Martha Martin, Louise Freena and Elizabeth Jones.

The regular business meeting of the society preceded the social. Solveig Knutzen, President of the society, occupied the chair and called for contest reports from the captains of each team. The members all were really enthusiastic and good reports were received from each team. Team B is leading in the attendance record, while Team E has secured the greatest number of members to date.

After the business meeting, Dr. Palmquist, a speaker at the Chambersburg Summer Conference for Young People, gave the society a fine talk on "Signposts on the Road to Success."

The girls of Team B then entertained the society with some games and charades which were enjoyed by all, especially the younger boys. They also served delicious refreshments. Team D, consisting of the older boys, gallantly washed the dishes.

The evening was pleasantly closed with the practicing of some Christmas carols and prayer by Rev. John Van Ness.

A HERMIT VILLAGE.

We once read of a little village hidden from the outside world. Travel passed near it daily, but the town could be reached only by tortuous and unmarked routes. And though their neighbors prospered, the inhabitants of this little town remained out of date, self-centered, and unknown.

About two months ago Mr. Kenneth L. M. Pray, of Philadelphia, gave a talk to the League of Women Voters at Narberth. He was twenty-five minutes late. Why? Because he spent part of the evening driving up and down the Lincoln Highway between Overbrook and Ardmore in search of a town called Narberth.

Why is this necessary? By a geographical accident we are between the two big Main Line highways—Montgomery Avenue and Lancaster Pike. On Montgomery Avenue the approaches to Narberth are marked by inconspicuous black iron signs, but on Lancaster Avenue there is no clue to the fact that there are two ways of reaching our town from that highway. These two approaches are Bowman Avenue and Wynnewood Road, the former the easiest route from the Philadelphia direction, the latter from up the line.

Would it not be a good plan for our Chamber of Commerce to take it upon themselves to see that a conspicuous, lighted sign is placed on these corners, indicating the auto road to Narberth? This matter has been often brought up in the past, frequently in these columns, but the agitation has so far been devoid of action.

Certainly we need not be ashamed of our community. Attractive signs on Lancaster Avenue—the Lincoln Highway between East and West—would do much to "tell the world" that there is an honest-to-goodness, wide-awake town five minutes from their route, and would prevent the vexatious delays so often experienced by newcomers to Narberth.

Communications

To the Editor of Our Town:

As to the campaign for a longer lunch period, a period long enough to permit all the scholars to go home for lunch.

I have had several phone calls expressing a desire for a change, but none (but one) cared to write Our Town about the matter; they were afraid of the well known venomous pen and feared to expose themselves to an attack and ridicule by the Cub. I have no such fear, and even have the temerity to feel and say that the only thing ridiculous so far connected with the discussion is the Cub, and will so remain.

The recent campaign against the regularly nominated candidates for School Directors was, as many people knew, not directed against the candidates, but against the Boss of the School Board. The public felt that it might be possible that these people were not independent or they would have long since resigned from the Board. As far as the public knows, and they cannot be certain, as the School Board's meetings are private—there is only one Director, but several members. One member has charge of the lunch room, and nothing else; another, of the buildings—past, present and future and nothing else; one has care of the correspondence and disbursements, and will do only as he is told; the furnace may be in the care of a member. All the rest—the curriculum, length of sessions, the personnel of the faculty—is the sole responsibility of the Boss. I gather that the principal is in favor of an hour and a half lunch period, and that all the other members may also favor this plan, but the plan is not now feasible, as the Boss has decided against it.

The vote of confidence the Boss of the School Board received at the recent election, a vote of about six to four in favor, was not strictly complimentary, and if the issues had been stated fairly, the School Board would soon have a different complexion. The writer took no part in that campaign, as he felt that the Boss' candidates were every bit as good as the opposition. He also felt that the School Board is made up of intelligent persons that mean well—all of them, the Boss included—but that only one exhibits any independence. Of course, the Director who resigned recently may have been independent and resigned for that reason; if he was independent, he would have to resign.

The public demands that all the members of the School Board shall be directors and not merely members. To simply say "the public be damned" is no argument. The day of autocracy has passed and the days of "obedient" members of the Narberth School Board are not many.

A. E. WOHLERT.

To the Editor of Our Town:

The Cub, as is perhaps not generally known by the public, is a member of the School Board, and it is with great delight that his friend, "August Evergreen," notes that he has the courage to form and express an opinion without consulting his Boss. If the writer is not mistaken, this is the first time in years that a Director of the Narberth School has shown any initiative and done anything without getting permission from the Boss of the Board.

Cub, you are a "brick" if you have done that; if not—well, the least said is the better.

A. E. WOHLERT.

PAGEANT AT ALL SAINTS' CHURCH.

The historical pageant portraying the development of the mission work in the Episcopal Church, as given at All Saints' Church, Wynnewood, on the last two Sunday evenings, was a beautiful and inspiring event.

The Episcopal Church all over the United States is celebrating the first centennial of the founding of the Board of Foreign and Domestic Missions, and in order that the people could realize the wonderful work done in these past hundred years and the need of increased efforts, a pageant was written, to be given at hundreds of Episcopal churches throughout the land.

It is interesting to note that it was in Philadelphia that the organized mission work had its start one hundred years ago in Old St. Peter's Church. The pageant as here presented at All Saints', was given by about 30 people, mostly the older boys at Montgomery Day School, assisted by some of the older boys and girls of Wynnewood and Narberth and a few adult members of the parish, all in costume. It was evident that many hours of study and rehearsing had been spent and the whole affair reflected great credit on Miss Shoemaker, of Cynwyd, who so ably trained the participants.

The five principal characters, in ecclesiastical robes, marched in and took their places at the altar, lectern and pulpit. These characters constituted the speaking parts in the pageant and they gradually unfolded an inspiring story of the growth of the work first only among the poor in the local parishes in the East (1800), then West with the pioneers among the cowboys, Indians and Mexicans, then South among the negroes, and finally beyond our borders to Africa, Alaska, Japan, China and various other fields. As each period of development was told, characters in costume marched to the chancel. To make the picture complete, the methods of carrying on the work, by means of missionaries, teachers, doctors, nurses, clergy and finally, native workers, were presented and these characters, also in costume, became part of the wonderful picture.

The final result was a vision of the mission work such as could not have been presented in any other way. The entire performance, if it might be called such without being sacrilegious, was reverent, dignified and thrilling. It is not likely that we will ever again have the opportunity of seeing such an event and those who were not able to attend either of the performances missed a wonderful story of the great work of the Christian Church.

NARBERTH FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Unknown to many, but attended by a few people who thoroughly enjoyed themselves, two dancing parties have been given by the Narberth Fire Company, on September 1st and Oct. 11th. A third one is to be given December 9th, at Elm Hall. Be assured that it will be worth attending, considering that the best orchestra ever at Narberth will again be in attendance.

The editor of Our Town said recently that a fire is news. The work of the firemen often prevents its being tragic news, and usually save it from becoming news of financial loss. Narberth firemen answer the call for help night and day, regardless of who may call. They are now calling for help. Can we not answer as cheerfully, and buy tickets for their dances, since the money is to be used to beautify and make comfortable Narberth's only meeting place for the public? Then, having bought tickets, can we not show our appreciation of their unselfish work by attending their dance, being sure in advance that there will be no regrets? Let us follow other Main Line towns and do something for our firemen. December 9th is the date. We know there are many other organizations asking for help in Narberth, but which one is more essential to our peace of mind than this branch of our Public Safety Department? Knowing that the service is voluntary, let us help.

The only reference in the Bible to any business concern is in the first book, wherein it states that Eve was made for Adams Express Company.

HOWARD'S

The Brightest Spot in Narberth

A Drug Store in the Most Modern Sense of the Term

Friends have suggested we reprint in OUR TOWN the following advertisement which appeared in the program of the Narberth Choral Society at their recent recital at the Metropolitan Opera House.

OUR TOWN

Music hath charms—of that there is no doubt; and it soothes the savage breast—at least the poets say.

Of course we are not all savages—and some of us are not entirely charmed by the musician's spell, though for the sake of our wives and sweethearts, we all act the part when called upon.

Sometimes the hard routine of a day at the desk or council table transforms us into barbarians at least. And we reach our firesides beating our savage breasts. Haven't you ever been called a "brute" or a "bear"?

It is then that the charm of the quiet country side and the well ordered home would most appeal. And if that home with its pleasant environment is within easy distance of the daily grind your contentment would be assured.

On the Main Line is a town—famed not alone for its Choral Society—but also for the beauty of its surroundings—its attractive homes—its happy children—its good neighbors and the conveniences of its location.

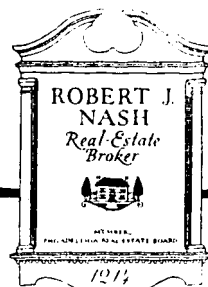

It is thirteen minutes out by express—and seventeen minutes by the local trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad with regular and frequent service.

There is a bus which runs every half hour connecting with the elevated at 69th Street; and for those among us who own a car, a twenty minute drive through park and country road leads right to their front porches.

In other words, it is easy to get to—though all the town-folk agree that it is mighty hard to leave.

Such is the spirit of its people, that they call it sometimes "Our Town"—other times the "Year Round Home Town."

The railroad and the post office call it Narberth.

Church Federation Meets at Bryn Mawr

DR. HOFFMAN ADDRESSES MEETING—REV. JOHN VAN NESS CHOSEN VICE-PRESIDENT.

More and more our people along the Main Line are appreciating co-operating with the Main Line Federation of Churches. This was well brought out at its annual meeting, held at the Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr, on Monday evening, November 7. Miss Hastings, in a very interesting address, as Field Secretary told just how some of the social service needs were being met. Miss Sophie Keefer, principal of the Bryn Mawr Grammar School, spoke for the schools, and Dr. Romaine C. Hoffman, of Narberth, for the physicians.

Rev. John Van Ness, of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, declined renomination, and Rev. Howard Wayne Smith, of the Ardmore Baptist Church, was chosen President for the ensuing year. The other officers elected were: Vice-Presidents, Rev. G. Calvert Carter, Rev. Andrew Mutch, Rev. John Van Ness, and Mrs. S. E. Downs; Secretary, Miss Susan Dewees; Treasurer, William H. Hughes.

The following annual report will give some idea of the scope and effectiveness of the social service work:

The Main Line Federation of Churches organized its Social Service Department ten years ago, since which time opportunities for service have steadily increased, and, it is hoped, have been met to the satisfaction of both the clients and supporters of the organization.

Staff.

The work is carried on from an office in the Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr, under the direction of an Executive Secretary, an Assistant Executive Secretary, assisted by a Field Secretary and a stenographer. Here 1,288 personal interviews have been held with clients, and from this centre 1,615 visits have been made by the Field Secretary and by seven faithful volunteers.

Information.

To this office come all sorts of requests for assistance, advice and information. In addition to the difficult problems of family adjustment, so familiar to all social workers, come applications for work or for workers; advice is sought in regard to schools or for private instruction; health regulations; hospital facilities; boarding places; vacation opportunities, and convalescent care. In co-operation with the Red Cross and the local committee of the State Department of Health, information in regard to all these matters is kept up to date and always accessible to the public.

Registration Bureau.

The registration file has been compiled for the use of all welfare organizations of the community, and has been used habitually by the Social Service Department of the Bryn Mawr Hospital, the Visiting Nurse Committee, the Home Service Section of the Red Cross, and the Well Baby Clinics of the Red Cross.

Co-operating Agencies.

We appreciate to the full the many facilities of our own neighborhood which bring help to our clients, and we are also in constant touch with agencies outside the community.

Travelers' Aid Society.

We act as agent for the Travelers' Aid Society and twice have been called upon during the year to meet and conduct to their destination young girls arriving here as strangers.

S. O. C.

The Philadelphia Society for Organizing Charity forwards to this office requests from charitable organizations all over the country for investigation and information. Fourteen agencies have requested this service during the year.

S. P. C. C.

Unfortunately a number of children have been reported to this office as not receiving proper home care. When friendly advice does not remedy the poor conditions, the family is referred to the Society to Protect Children from Cruelty, which investigates, and, if necessary, takes the case to court. The Society also refers to the Federation homes which have been reported where no real cruelty exists, but where family readjustment is perhaps necessary. We have co-operated with this organization in eight instances during the year.

Mothers' Assistance Fund.

The Mothers' Assistance Fund of Delaware County asks us to visit regularly widows whom the Fund has pensioned, and we have been in touch with seven during the year. We help these women to plan for the best use of the pensions, securing for them the right kind of supplementary work, when, as so often happens, the pension is inadequate; suggest opportunities for helpful recreation; and do all in our power to assure to the fatherless children good home surroundings and a proper up-bringing.

Probation Work.

The Social Service Department has become during the past year the local representative of the Montgomery County Probation Officer in connection with her work for the Juvenile Court. Investigations for the Court are made by our worker and children on probation are under our supervision. Of

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow townsman, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register. As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 3 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

Work for Tuberculosis Patients.

The State Tuberculosis Dispensary refers to the Social Service Department any patients who appear to have a financial problem, or where help is needed in securing milk; in making a plan for the family while the bread winner is sent to a sanatorium; or in arranging for proper clothing, carfare, etc. Twelve such patients have been referred during 1921.

Co-operation with Schools.

The schools have referred twenty-two children for special investigation in regard to home conditions, the possibility of special industrial training, or for vocational guidance. The Superintendents of Schools of Lower Merion, Haverford, and Radnor Townships have co-operated with this organization in every way, both by giving information and advice and by asking for help. It would be impossible to make adequate plans for any family in which there are children of school age without the help of the school principals and the individual teachers.

Red Cross Home Service Section.

The Main Line Branch of the Red Cross in its peace time work has been in close touch with this organization. The services of two workers are shared, and families are referred from one organization to the other according to their special needs. The Home Service Section is still caring for the families of men in the service and for disabled ex-service men. When family problems become distinctly civilian in character they are referred to the Federation of Churches.

Well Baby Clinics.

The Well Baby Clinics fill a great need in the community and give helpful service to many of our mothers. Family problems often appear among attendants at these clinics and are referred to this office for its advice.

Junior Red Cross.

The Junior Department of the Red Cross has been extremely active and has carried on much of its work in co-operation with us. It has given two scholarships to help school children of the neighborhood, and last year made Christmas happy for sixty children by donating well filled Christmas stockings.

Main Line Citizens' Association Visiting Nurse Committee.

As always, we are working in close touch with the nurses of the district. They refer to us those of their patients who need help or advice, and give to those under our care the expert nursing and health instruction of which they so often stand in need.

Housing Committee.

This year, as last, we have been greatly assisted by the Housing Committee, which has investigated and remedied bad housing conditions for our families. In return the investigator for this committee refers to us people whom she meets on her rounds who seem to be in any sort of difficulty.

Churches.

The churches of the Main Line, both Protestant and Roman Catholic, members and non-members of the Federation, have worked with the Social Service Department in helping their own church members. Pensions have been provided entirely, or shared, with this organization, and much relief given in times of emergency. This is, of course, in addition to the regular contributions for the support of the Social Service Department made by the member churches of the Federation.

Public Officials.

The public officials of the two counties and the three townships in which we work have helped and advised us constantly throughout the year.

Police Departments.

The Police Departments are always of the greatest assistance. Four cases have been referred by them to this office, and in twelve cases we have received information or help in solving difficult problems. In one instance the State Police have also taken an active interest.

Magistrates.

The local Magistrates are always at our service and many times can bring authority to bear in untangling difficult situations; in bringing together disunited households; in forcing men to work and to support their wives and children.

Community Club Notes

course, an afternoon party is for the ladies. It is not only for the members of the Club, however, but for their friends as well. If you have not attended one in the past, you have missed some delightful times. Come on Wednesday and you will hope to hear of more such occasions.

JUNIOR SECTION, WOMEN'S COMMUNITY CLUB.

The last meeting of the Junior Section, Women's Community Club, was held at the home of Miss Margaret Fowler, on Elmwood Avenue. About thirty-five girls were present and enjoyed hearing two of their own number speak.

Miss Ruth Jones, who was sent as one of the delegates to the Federation of Women's Clubs at Pittsburgh, gave a delightful account of the many interesting and active meetings and events of the Federation. Mrs. Winthrop Derby then gave a most interesting and vivid talk about that very great subject, "Social Service." Mrs. Derby was formerly connected with this work first generally and later through one separate, though great medium, The Travelers' Aid Society.

To have heard what Social Service really is; to have learned of the many fields of work open to workers, and how they are successfully covered by workers, and to have been given a general outlook into a different world than the easy, pleasure-loving one about them, gave the girls a ready realization of how very much efforts of charity are appreciated.

Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

Hoover Endorses B. & L. Associations

they are an instrumentality not only in solving the housing problem, but in developing self-reliance of our citizenry.

"It is my earnest desire that the building and loan associations of the United States should be encouraged by the public-spirited citizens in every locality."

In the face of such an indorsement from such an endorser, can there be any question of the advisability of buying building and loan shares. Can other forms of investment and saving match the soundness of building and loan shares or the assured return of about eight per cent.? If still in doubt, call on our directors, who are at your service at all times.

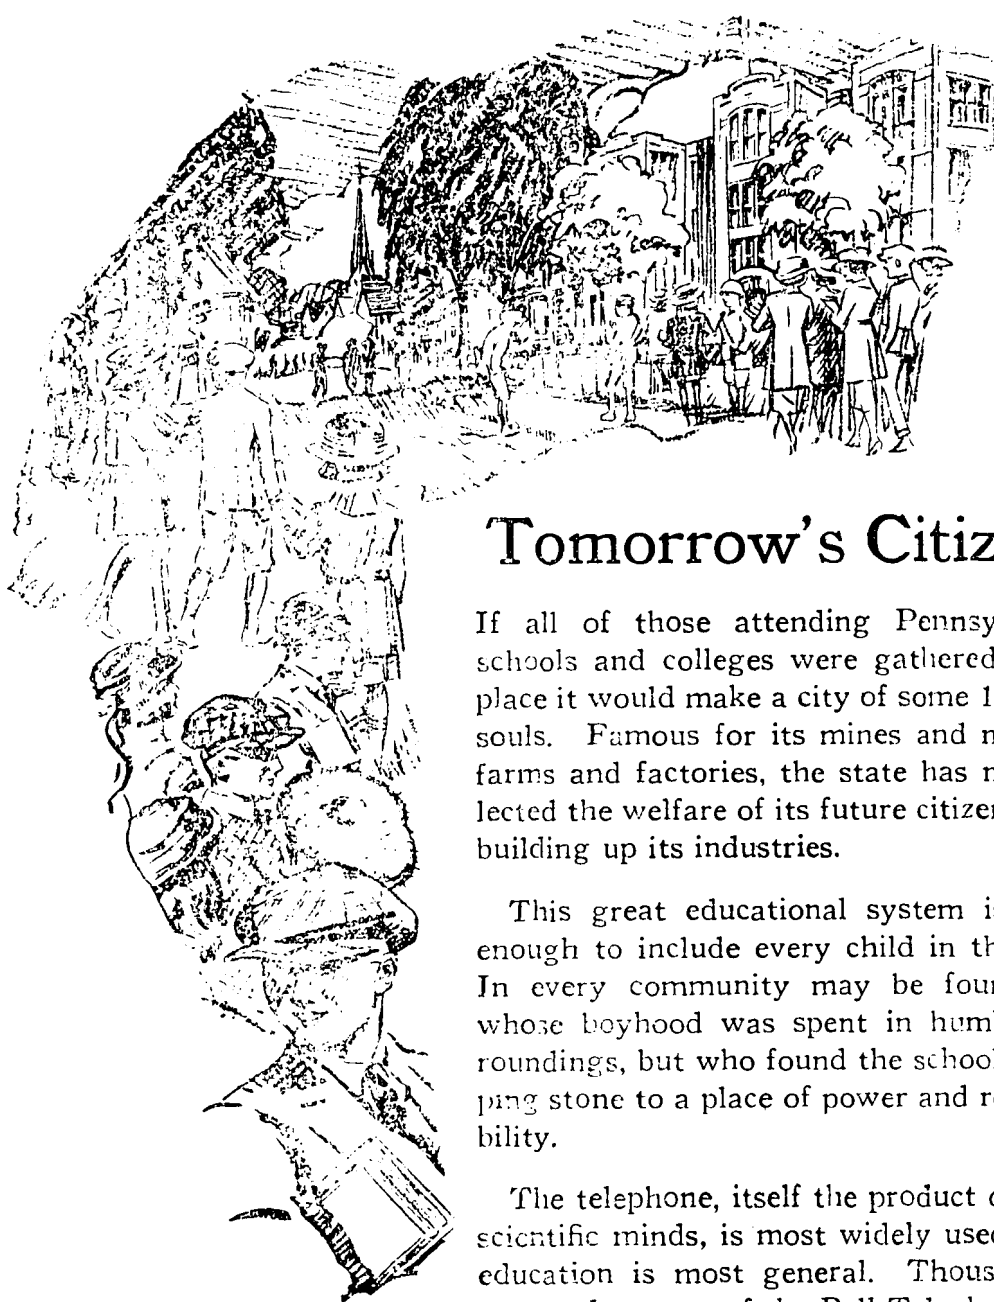

The Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association solicits your business. A new series of both single and double shares will be opened on December 6. All directors are ready to receive subscriptions. For information about the forthcoming series call the Secretary, Harry A. Simpson, at Narberth 636, or any of the directors.

LEGION MEETING NOVEMBER 28TH

The regular monthly meeting of the Legion will be held at Elm Hall, Monday evening, November 28th, 1921, at eight o'clock. The meeting this month will be in the nature of a family gathering, although any friends of the Legion will find a cordial welcome. It is proposed to discuss in a very intimate way the problems which are facing the Legion locally as well as nationally, and our esteemed fellow townsman, Robert J. Nash, has consented to talk for a little while.

Our representative to the National Convention at Kansas City, Russell Greene, Esq., will also be present. It will be a rousing meeting, and it is the duty of every member of the Legion to be present.

Tomorrow's Citizens

If all of those attending Pennsylvania's schools and colleges were gathered in one place it would make a city of some 1,750,000 souls. Famous for its mines and mills, its farms and factories, the state has not neglected the welfare of its future citizens while building up its industries.

This great educational system is broad enough to include every child in the state. In every community may be found men whose boyhood was spent in humble surroundings, but who found the school a stepping stone to a place of power and responsibility.

The telephone, itself the product of many scientific minds, is most widely used where education is most general. Thousands of men and women of the Bell Telephone System received in the small schools the fundamental training that fitted them for their vocation. Their training and their loyalty have given Pennsylvania a telephone service that has never been excelled.
